What I learned in Graphic Design

Flyer

I learned how to create a flyer and how to use porportion when aligning images and also how to compare and contrast when it come to color.

Business Card

I learned that a lot of same type of “thing” is bad when it comes to Graphic Design. For example if Wendy wanted to make a business card but she only put words in some cases that might be okay but if Wendy put pictures on the front then the infomation on the back that would be perfect because she has pictures of her business on the front and all of the infomation on the back.

Holiday Card

I learned that when your doing Graphic Design that you have to choose images that suit the situation very well or perfectly because if you don’t then it won’t make any sense and will just be confusing.For example if Ludwig was trying to make a birthday card for his son Larry’s 7th birthday but when making the card the image was a funnal then that wouldn’t make any sense and just being confusing.

Logo

When creating your own logo something to be reminded of is that is has to have only the inportant features and that when you see it you can reconize it instanly.Don’t make it to conplicated so it canbe reconized.

Digital Advertisement

I learned that when your doing digital advertisement you have to include all of the inportant infomation in about 15-45 seconds.If you include all of the small extra details in between that time period then you won’t have as much time to cram in all of the inportant details that has to happen in that time period.Also try to include a video while giving all of the inportant details to give viewers a visual of what your trying to do and what you mean.
